Team 28: Python Matrix

Individual Status Report 1

Team member:

Mohammad Naeem

Section1:

Last week's goals:

- Set up a github repository for the project
- Tried to come up with ideas for our app but did not get too far

Section 2:

The progress I have made this week:

- Made the repository for our project
- Wanted to make a list of user stories and product backlog in Trello, but could not help much because did not understand clearly what to do at that time with trello
- Was supposed to work with the user stories
- Started the flask app and learned that we might need to clone the repos and them push otherwise it will delete everything. Or using merging as the other option

Section 3:
- I plan to help(If I can in any way) develop ideas for our application's front end work
- I will also plan to develop ideas for some backend
- Front end, trello and database are what we will be working on all together
- Himanshu and I will work on front end
- I will be completing the Lo-Fi UIs, updating the Product Backlog accordingly.
